SATURDAY..... NOV. 26, 1875.

NEWS OF THE MORNING.

The rainfall continues and the ground stages are delayed.

Our dispatches show that the Washington Chronicle, the President's organ, announces him a candidate for reelection.

Rain continued to fall at intervals in this city yesterday and night.

The steamer Monterey, on her way to Santa Monica with ties for the Los Angeles and Independence Railroad, encountered rough weather and part of her cargo was swept overboard.

Dispatches report that yesterday noon the Merced river had risen 32 feet.

On the 18th the river at Sacramento had risen 23 feet above low water mark.

A new system of Geography will have to be devised. A California boy has discovered that the earth is divided by earthquakes.

and he commenced to express opinions claimed as his own, but undoubtedly prepared for him by those shrewd manipulators who are making the game for him, on public issues, we began to learn something of the material out of which those contingencies were to be shaped. The announcement that the Cubans would be recognized as belligerents was contingency number one. This would prove the opening wedge to a war with Spain, and thus a large contingency would be presented. The Des Moines speech, in which a sectarian war on the school fund question was promised, showed where another contingency was to come from. The currency issue is still another contingency. These three are already prepared and ready for use, and others will be manufactured as the material can be found. Everything being prepared the Chronicle, the Washington organ of the President, opens the ball with the announcement that he will stand in for the third term, and that the Republican party will be compelled to take him as its choice. The cloak is dropped and the President of the United States assumes the role of dictator.

A Mistake.

EDITOR HERALD: In the third column of the inside page of the present issue of the New Italy we have this paragraph:

CHICAGO, Nov. 18th.—A Washington special says that the third term movement is developing rapidly in official circles. Many leading Republicans say that Grant is the only man who can save the party, and unless it is saved, ruin is bound to stalk through the land.

One would not know the true facts (think that our orange culture had but just commenced). Of course the editor meant 5,000,000, and if he had so stated we do not hesitate to say he would have underestimated the number by about two million, although we have short crops this year. The sole object of this communication is to call the attention of our city and county Press, and also the New Italy to correct the mistake. It is evidently a mistake, but thousands abroad would not know the difference, especially when comparing it with the very many statements already sent broadcast and the full facts in the premises. Very truly,

WM. MCPHERSON.
Los Angeles, November 19th.

Yesterday's Runaway.

The dull, heavy tones of the town chronometer had just announced 12 o'clock, and the founders and machine shops were likewise telling the same tale to hungry workmen by means of their shrill whistles, when a four-horse team took it into their heads to try their speed down Main street. On they rushed, the mud flying high amid the din of a thousand different noises. Their course was shaped straight for Temple Block, and they undoubtedly intended "a run" on the bank. That institution, being providentially closed, would have prevented any such a catastrophe had they not been checked in their mad career before reaching the sidewalk. One of the lead horses slipped up and then sat down on the end of the tongue. The wheelers carried him a short distance, when he keeled over, and in his floundering threw down his mate, and in a short time they were about as badly a mixed team as the most fastidious pleasure-seeker could desire to see. The boys jumped and laughed at what they termed the fun. Several good-hearted citizens gallantly waded out into the knee-deep mud and seized the fallen steeds. After a deal of pulling, and tugging, and hard swearing, those few praiseworthy friends of humanity, through and with the valuable aid and advice of several hundred loungers who immediately gathered to the rescue but were careful to stay on the sidewalk, succeeded in disengaging the unfortunate animals and sent them driver on his way rejoicing, escaping with no serious injury. They some broken straps, few scratches about his horses' legs, and an abundance of nice Los Angeles mud. If the affair had been terminated by a respectable dog fight we would have been able to extend this article to a much greater length.

The Orange Crop.

Messrs. A. Giorgiani and Wm. Jacobs, the latter one of the firm of A. Lusk & Co., both well known fruit firms of San Francisco, have made contracts for about three-quarters of the orange crop of this county. Last year over 7,000,000 oranges were shipped from Los Angeles, but this year the oranges for export are estimated at 4,000,000. These two enterprising firms have contracted for all the oranges at Sunny Slope Vineyard (R. S. Lake Vineyard, Wilson's, San Marcos Vineyard (Shaw's), Wolf's) or change the name of the orchard to over one-hundred thousand dollars, and these firms have already advanced considerable sums on the prospective crop. They report the crop of the Mission orchards as a good yield, but in other groves the crop is light. Though the number of oranges is less than last year, the quality will be far superior in size and flavor to those of last year. Messrs. Giorgiani and Jacobs have left a good market and will remain as permanent residents.

We notice a large disproportion in the number of passengers arriving and departing on the steamers. They come into this valley by hundreds and leave by thirties.—This shows that about two-thirds will spend the winter, at least; and we think we may safely say that a majority of them are seeking homes, and will remain as permanent residents.

On Wednesday evening last the Native Wine Dealers' Association held a meeting in San Francisco, for the purpose of taking the necessary steps to memorialize Congress to alter the revenue laws so far as they relate to the distillation of grape brandy so as to permit, first, the placing of distilled brandies in Government bonded warehouses until sold, or for a term of at least two years without being called upon for the taxes; second, permitting grape brandy distillers to export grape brandy in bond and in quantities as small as that permitted to exporters of foreign brands—that is, per single package of 22 gallons; third, permitting the manufacturers of sweet and brandied wines to use the necessary amount of grape spirit without tax.

Mrs. Fred Morris attempted to jump off the third story of the International hotel, San Francisco, on Thursday night. She was taken to the station house.

We had a conversation yesterday with a gentleman interested in the cultivation of tobacco. He says there is no reason why this section should not produce tobacco equal to the finest Havana and intends this season to give the thing a trial.

THE THIRD TERM.

The President's Organ Announces that the Republicans Must Accept Him.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 18th.—The Chronicle, an administration organ, boldly announces its support of Grant for the third term, and says the Republican party will be compelled to take him as its choice. It then rings out a loud wail over the fact that all the old rebels are coming into power in Congress; and that the life of the Republic is therefore endangered, and that Grant is the only man who can save it. It says there is no escape from this view of the question of electing a President, and the masses of the Republican party, no longer affrighted with the absurd cry of Cesarism, are now looking to Grant as confidently as they ever regarded him. The school question and anti-Catholicism are to be dwelt on in the annual message. The ideas foreshadowed in the Chronicle are really based upon a master plan, prepared by the President, and his intimates. Since the late Fall elections the prospect of a third term is admitted by dozens where there was one before the election.

Col. Mosby, the original third term man, is at the head of the organization in the South formed for the secret purpose of advocating the President's re-election. There is also a social society forming in the country, known as the anti-Catholic organization, which is pledged to the President. Severe circulars are sent to many men throughout the country, asking them to co-operate.

Mr. Joseph W. Stow, of San Francisco, filed a petition in the Probate Court for the removal of Maurice Dore and Wm. Isaacs from the executorship of the estate of her deceased husband. She says Isaac has appropriated a portion of the estate of her husband, and used it for Maurice Dore. The most important part of the petition is that Mrs. Stow says the executors allowed Ralston a large sum of money, when in fact, Ralston was indebted to Stow at the time of the latter's death, under a partnership arrangement.

James R. King has commenced suit against the Woodville Mining Company to recover $24,000 damages.

A Board of Centennial Managers has been organized for this State and Comissioned by the Centennial Commission at Philadelphia, as follows: San Francisco—J. D. O'reigh, Commissioner and President of the Board; Jacob Deeth, W. F. Whittier, T. J. L. Smiley, N. Townsend, of the Central Pacific Railroad; John P. Snow, B. B. Redding, J. P. H. Wentworth, W. K. Vandervelde, J. G. Gardner, A. P. Campbell, Irving M. Scott, Ira P. Rankin, H. H. Bigelow, Wallace Everson, Interior—B. P. Kooser, Alterate Commissioner, Santa Cruz; Gov. Dr. J. L. Ord, Santa Barbara; Major Jacob R. Snyder, Sonoma; Drury Melone, Wm. H. Mills, Sacramento; Jacob R. Neff, Colfax; P. W. Sergeant, Monterey; J. L. Hebron, Santa Clara; G. R. Porter, San Diego; Joseph Aran, Natividad; Gen. J. B. Frisbie, Vallejo; Austin Sperry, Stockton; Charles H. Gorham, Marysville. The object and aim of the above Board will be to aid and to encourage the people of California in placing before the visitors at the Centennial Exposition in Philadelphia in 1876 the result of the labor of the husbandman, the skill of the artist and the work of the artisan who may fitly represent their branch of industry. To that end they will prepare and present to the next Legislature a petition asking for a liberal appropriation for the above purpose, and they would most respectfully ask those who will furnish anything that will show to the nations of the earth next year the wonderful progress California has made in twenty-five years as an agricultural, mining and manufacturing State, to prepare the same and make immediate application for space, in order that the desire and intention of the people may be laid before their representatives at Sacramento in December next.

Secretary Chandler claims that he discharged the Patent Office clerks for cause and not for political considerations.

A New York dispatch of yesterday says the Staten Island steamer D. R. Martin took fire on her down trip yesterday. The fire was caused by overheated machinery. The pilot ran her ashore on the flats, and the passengers and hands were removed in small boats. Two men were badly scalded.

Yesterday morning a collision occurred on the Pittsburg, Cincinnati & St. Louis railroad, between a construction train and an Eastern bound freight train, four miles East of Dennison, Ohio. Three employees were killed and others seriously injured. The accident was caused by seeing the engineer of the freight train disregarding signals.

Secretary Chandler claims that he discharged the Patent Office clerks for cause and not for political considerations.

Newspaper Items.

[From the Argus, Nov. 18th.]

Work is progressing on the new depot, and it will be completed in a few days.

The U. S. Coast survey steamer Hassler is now anchored off the wharf and the officers are making a careful survey of Santa Monica bay. So far, we have heard of no new developments.

A five-acre lot on the Eastern side of the railroad has been set apart for a cemetery. It seems to us that some movement ought to be organized among the citizens to have the ground laid off and beautified.

The schooner Uncle Sam arrived at the wharf last Saturday morning and discharged 6,000 ties in less than twenty hours. This is good work, and is a great improvement on the "old style."

The Mehong took 250 head of sheep from the Santa Monica yard yesterday. An incline has been constructed to facilitate the shipment of small stock, and its use on this occasion proves that it fully subserves the purpose for which it is intended. It required about fifteen minutes to trans for these sheep from the wharf to the vessel.

We notice a large disproportion in the number of passengers arriving and departing on the steamers. They come into this valley by hundreds and leave by thirties.—This shows that about two-thirds will spend the winter, at least; and we think we may safely say that a majority of them are seeking homes, and will remain as permanent residents.

Hints to Newspaper Carriers.

"You see," said one in San Francisco, "I don't take a back seat to no man in this town in landing" a paper just where it is wanted. Up on Stockton street there is a little French woman who hangs a parrot out in a cage from her window every afternoon, and when I sling the paper up it falls on the ledge above the cage, and the parrot grabs it with his beak. She can't read a word of English but she takes the paper because she likes to see me sling it around so lively. I never missed but once, and that was one foggy day last Winter, when I supposed I didn't make proper calculation for the condition of the atmosphere." "Pshaw! That ain't nowhere chimed in another, "I've been serving a morning paper all along to a man who's never left his bed for seven years. Got the rheumatiz. There's a hole busted in one of the windows, six inches wide and it's two stories high. I shot it through that slit at ten minutes past five every mornin', and it struck him in the face and wakes him up. On these dark mornin', when there's a high wind it takes some mighty lively calculation to hit the place just right. One mornin' I dropped it on the foot of the bed and didn't wake him, so he stopped the paper next day.

Notice to Gas Consumers.

[From the Gazette, 19th Inst.]

Parties from Capistrano report the grass as being thick and plenty in that section and upon the San Joaquin ranch.

Mr. Howe from Westminster reports everything flourishing in the colony and every prospect of a bountiful season.

The Cajon water ditch has been effected rather than injured by the rains. The mesa land has received moisture enough to render the completion of the ditch, overthat portion, as an easy matter.

We had a conversation yesterday with a gentleman interested in the cultivation of tobacco. He says there is no reason why this section should not produce tobacco equal to the finest Havana and intends this season to give the thing a trial.

For months past the HERALD has maintained that GRANT intended to remain in the Presidential chair another term, and for life if it were possible for him to do so. The idea was ridiculed by Republican organs and doubted by Democratic journals. The fact that the President never would say positively that he was not a candidate for re-election was sufficient to raise the suspicion that he was a candidate. When pushed to the wall he said there might arise contingencies which would render the election of a President to the third term necessary. It was apparent to all observing men that he would leave no means untried to create those contingencies,

Testimonial

To the Skill of Prof. J. N. Cunningham, M. D.

Cure of Heart Disease.

I hereby certify that Dr. J. N. Cunningham, of this city, has cured me of a dangerous case of the heart. I was so sick and weak that I could not stand. I had received treatment from other skillful physicians, but without much benefit. I placed myself under your care, and you may receive help, knowing full well that the Doctor has saved my life. To find me at San Pedro and Los Angeles, Prof. J. N. Cunningham, F. WILLSON, Oct29w

Another Testimonial.

Cure of Palys.

I hereby certify that I have been cured of Palys of my face, Mouth and Eyes by Prof. J. N. Cunningham, F. Willson, and though I were fearfully distorted and out of all shape, I had constant and severe pain in my head, for which I could get no relief, I had received treatment from some of the best physicians of this city. I was then advised to go to the Hot Springs. I went, but gained no better, I am now well and here again. Any one wishing to see me can find me making inquiry at Los Angeles, Prof. J. N.
